Hi! This post was written a while ago, and it linked to lots of things that might be obsolete now. If you're going to use something it's best to make sure it is up to date. I think the best thing to do with something like this would be to have a community discussion in Discord or something and try to come up with a single general version of the post. We could write a topic in the talk page of the page itself. In any case, I suggest you might want to check things out! I did put a lot of effort into writing it, so I'd be happy to hear your opinion. Thanks for reading! Your response to this post is moderated. Sorry for any inconvenience. If this was helpful, please like it! If it was not helpful, please don't like it!
